Houth Balletin

Twentieth Junday after Pentecost October 26, 2025

Today's lessons:

Joel 2:23-32 God promises his people that with a bountiful harvest he will make good for the years when Israel was plagued by locusts. But not just food will be plenty,— the blessings of the Spirit will too.

Psalm 65 Praise to God who once created the earth, and keeps it working so that there is a harvest!

The Apostle Paul shares his old-age 2 Timothy 4:6-8, 16-18 perspective with young Timothy: what is important in the end, is to keep the faith.

Jesus tells a parable about how two very Luke 18:9-14 different people approach God, one proud of his own religious accomplishments, one ashamed of his sinfulness.

(1)

In our Gospel today, Jesus has a message for a special or maybe not so special group of people

WRONG.

A most watery psalm

A lot of water is needed to make a good harvest, and you have to find a lot of water-words before the remaining letters let you see the hidden message.

A GLORIOUS FUTURE

Paul tells Timothy what he is looking forward to:

Oh wait, right letters, wrong idea: really Paul is thinking of his

JOEL'S MESSAGE

The day will come, when Joel and other prophets will no longer be alone with their special knowledge about God's plans. Do you have knowledge and spirit enough to unscramble this message?
