

Making Reservations

Do you think like the disciples in our Gospel today that there are better and not so good seats at the Lord's table?!

Proves once again that we tend to think of God being like us instead of imitating God as we see him in Jesus Christ, meaning in this case: serving everyone!

Today's lessons:

Job 38:1-7 (34-41)

Finally God answers Job and his call for justice. But the answer turns out to be a long list of questions, boiling down to 'Who do you think you are, to question the Creator?'

Psalms 104:1-9, 24, 35c
Hebrews 5:1-10

We praise the Lord for his work of Creation. God has appointed Jesus Christ to serve as our High Priest and to bring prayers and sacrifice for us, like the High Priest of Israel did for the people. The brothers James and John need to learn that at God's table it's those who serve who get the best places – not those who call for reserved seats.

Mark 10:35-45

GOOD-BYE OR NEW BEGINNING ?

In today's lesson from Hebrews, do we find

POETRY AS FREE AU-REVOIR ?

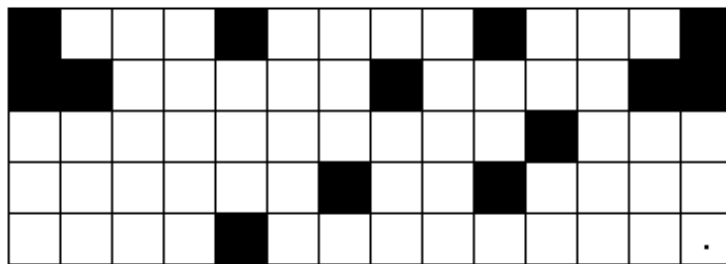

Or does God – instead of 'au-revoir' – say to Jesus Christ

QUESTIONS INSTEAD OF ANSWERS

This is not what Job wanted from God.

But hidden behind all these questions lies the answer Job was waiting for, just like the words from Job lie hidden in this word-search...
