Third Sunday

after Epiphany

Today's lessons:

Isaiah 9:1-4

The prophet announces an end to the time of gloominess and depression that has come over the northern part of Israel with the occupation by the Assyrians in 721 BC.

Psalm 27:1, 4-9

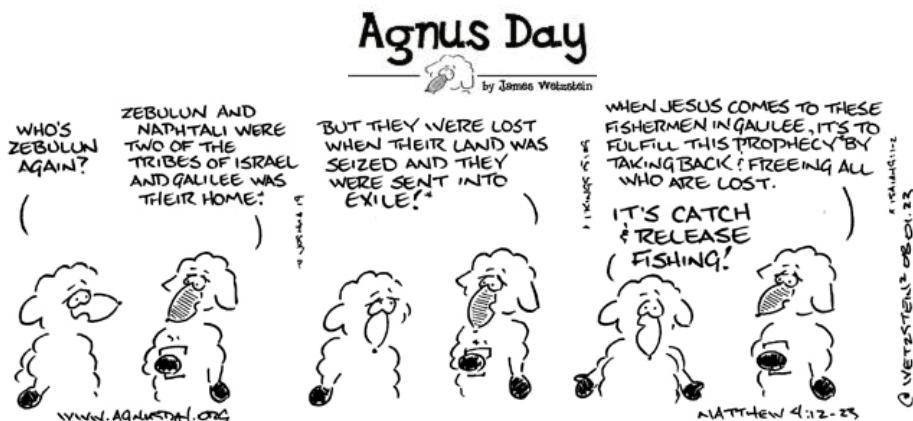

It is God who helps us when we are in trouble.

1 Corinthians 1:10-18

It doesn't make sense to have rivalries in the church as we all live only because of Jesus Christ dying for us on the cross.

Matthew 4:12-23

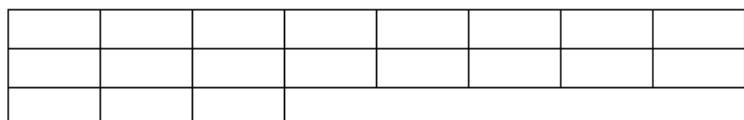

After John the Baptist has been arrested, Jesus begins his public ministry in Galilee, the northern part of Israel, fulfilling the old prophecy that we heard in today's Old Testament reading.

No Divisions!

(1Corinthians 1)

It is an recurring theme in Paul's letters that opposites within the church can't justify divisions because we are all one in Christ.
