Seventeenth Sunday

after Pentecost

Today's lessons:

- Proverbs 1:20-33 Wisdom, personified as a woman (similar to for example Lady Justice), is advertising her counsel in the street, but with little success. Most people prefer to be dumb!
- Psalm 19 God has given a marvellous order to the universe, and with the law he has also given a perfect order to his people.
- James 3:1-12 With great eloquence James warns us to use our tongues wisely: words can be just as hurtful as any action.
- Mark 8:27-38 Halfway through his Gospel, Mark tells us about a turning point in the way the disciples understand their being with Jesus: the moment Peter recognizes Jesus as the Messiah, Jesus reveals to the disciples that being the Messiah means he will have to be killed. And the fate of the disciples looks not much brighter...

Wisdom from James

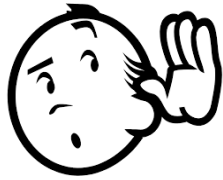

Back in school, frustrated teachers can probably they will find that

that Jesus does not want any disciples.
Can you decipher what he says?
